New: Payment, Calendar, and System Emails Now Exempt from DND in Gym Lead Machine

2026-08-11 - Tom Regier - Feature Updates

Contacts marked as Do Not Disturb (DND) in Gym Lead Machine no longer miss critical account emails. Payment and invoice emails, calendar notifications, and system notifications are now delivered even when a contact has DND turned on, so essential communications never get held up by a DND setting meant for marketing outreach.

- Invoices and payment emails now send regardless of DND status
- Calendar notifications now send regardless of DND status
- System notifications now send regardless of DND status

Marketing and promotional emails continue to fully respect DND settings, exactly as before. This is not a blanket bypass of DND, just an exemption for the handful of email types that keep an account running.

For the full breakdown of how DND works and what it covers, see Use Do Not Disturb \(DND\).
